Integrate mySites.guru to Alfred Workflow on Mac

How to integrate mySites.guru with Alfred on macOS so you can jump straight to any connected site's management page from your keyboard.

Phil E. Taylor | 16 March 2026

You can install our Alfred Workflow to jump straight to any connected site's management page from your keyboard.

What is Alfred?

Alfred is a macOS launcher that gives you fast access to apps, files, web searches, and custom actions via keyboard shortcuts. If you spend a lot of time at your Mac, it's worth trying - the free version is useful on its own.

I have mine mapped to CMD+SPACE.

What is an Alfred Workflow?

A workflow is essentially a plugin for Alfred - it adds custom commands and actions. You need the Alfred PowerPack to use workflows, which costs £34 (or £59 for a lifetime licence).

How to integrate mySites.guru with Alfred

With Alfred and the PowerPack installed, download the workflow and open it to add it to Alfred. Then:

- Press your Alfred shortcut and type `my` followed by a space
- You'll see a list of mySites.guru menu items to choose from
- Select one and hit Enter - your browser opens that page

How do you connect your account for full site search?

You can also enable public pages in your mySites.guru account to get a token (a string like `smk4md33zf223efmg6y3bgbbo7mmeu63` - that one's fake).

Do that on the Public Site Screenshots page, then edit the workflow in Alfred and paste your token where it says `ENTER_TOKEN_HERE`.

With the token configured, you can search your actual sites by name and jump straight to the Manage Site page. For a site called mySites.guru, it's just:

CMD+SPACE
my SPACE
mys
ENTER

That's it. The `mys` filters the site list down to the right result.

Prefer Raycast over Alfred? We built a Raycast extension too.

Productivity integrations are covered in our multi-site management guide.
